Art display slated at Romulus Library

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Romulus Library will take on the air of an art gallery this coming week, as hundreds of various styles of student artwork will be on display.

Romulus Librarian Diane Hazen and her staff have invited families of the art students to a special "by invitation only" reception Friday night to kick-off the art display.

The library is closed to usual business on Fridays.

Then from Saturday to next Saturday the public will be invited to come to the Wayne Road library and enjoy the multiple art talents of students, ranging from elementary to high school.

Those unfamiliar with the library operations can also use the opportunity to sign on for a library card or just discover when the local library offers as far as books, audio tapes, videos and computer use.

Actually persons entering the library as early as today will get a sampling of the artwork as the display begins to take form.

Hazen, who has seen some of the art work of the younger students already, expressed amazement at the maturity the young artists are showing at such an early age.

New restaurant coming to city

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A new sandwich-pizza restaurant to be operated by former Wick School Principal Chuck Shamey has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

Shamey and his wife, Adebe, won a rezoning request Monday night for three small parcels of land adjoining property that formerly housed the 747 Party Store at 7300 Middlebelt Road.

Shamey, a former Romulus teacher and principal, told the council "I have no plans for a party store. I would have a hard time telling liquor to customers, who use to be students in my classes."

Shamey had previously appeared before the city's planning commission and was told he was short of parking slots.

An offer was then made to purchase three small lots, 20 by 100 feet each to cover the parking needs, a city report stated.

The restaurant proposal won both the unanimous support of the city planning commissioners and the city council. (Councilman Leroy Burcroff was absent Monday night for the vote).

"I would have a hard time telling liquor to customers, who use to be students in my classes."
- Chuck Shamey

Shamey said plans are to remodel and upgrade the former party store building. The property fronts on Middlebelt Road and reaches out to Charles Street.

A ham-corned beef sandwich trade is planned for the day, Shamey said, and pizzas will be offered at night.

While the majority of the customers will buy take-out items, Shamey said, there will be some stools for those who want to eat inside the restaurant.

The Shameys reside in Dearborn Heights.

Decision next week on referendum

City Clerk Linda Choate revealed Monday night she expects to hear next week whether the state has approved the city's request for a referendum to be on the school board ballot this June.

City voters rejected four of the five charter change requests Mayor William Oakley asked for back on Feb. 22.

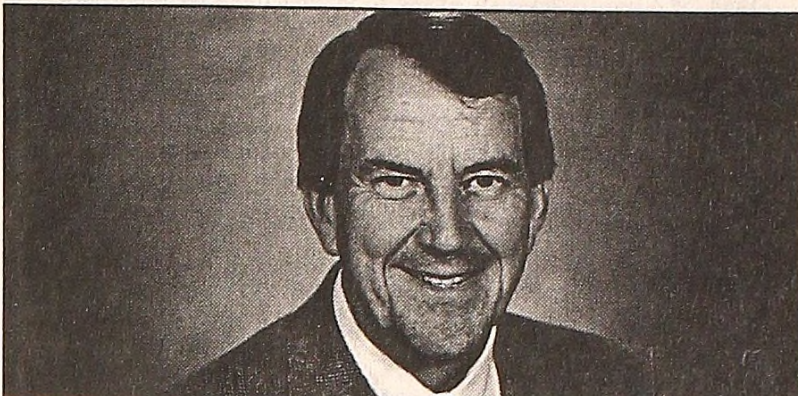

City Attorney Stephen Hitchcock changed the language of the four defeated measures and the council lopped off one of them for voters consideration this year.

Choate revealed the state usually asks a two year delay in resubmitting such measures. Hitchcock is hoping his changes in the ballot requests are strong enough to warrant separate consideration.

It is not known what steps Oakley will take if the state rejects the city's requests.

Whereas: Chapter XIII of the Romulus City Charter, entitled "Contracts" contains Sections 13.2 entitled "Material Purchases", Section 13.3 entitled "Specifications" and Section 13.4(a) entitled "Approval of Contracts; Review; Appropriation" which presently provide for certain dollar limitations on all contracts that may be entered into by the administration before sealed bids must be received and Council approval obtained; and

Whereas: The City Council has determined that due to the cost of living increases since the 1970 Charter was adopted, the dollar limitations should be increased and that cost of living increases will require further adjustments in the future; and

Whereas: In order to accomplish this purpose, it is necessary to amend the City Charter by submitting Charter amendments to the electorate at a special election to be held on the 12th day of June, 2000.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved: That amendments to Section 13.2, 13.3 and 13.4(a) of the Romulus City Charter be placed on the 12th day of June, 2000 special election ballot for consideration by the electorate.

Be It Further Resolved: That the amendments to Section 13.2, 13.3 and 13.34 (a) shall read as follows:

Section 13.2 Material Purchases.

No contract shall be entered into by the City for the purchase of any material, tools, apparatus or any other thing or things, the consideration or cost of which shall exceed $2,250 or after the year 2001, a greater amount established by resolution of City Council from time to time which shall not exceed the increase in the Consumer Price Index as reported by the U.S. Department of Labor for the Detroit area, until after an opportunity for competitive bidding; and until it has first advertised for sealed proposals in a paper of circulation within the City. The City shall have the right to reject any and all such proposals.

Section 13.3. Specifications.

No public improvement costing more than $3,000 or after the year 2001, a greater amount established by City Council by resolution from time to time which shall not exceed the increase in the Consumer Price Index as reported by the U.S. Department of labor for the Detroit area, shall be contracted for or commenced until drawings, profiles and estimates for the same shall have been submitted to the City Council and approved by it and a copy thereof shall thereafter remain on file in the office of the Clerk subject to inspection by the public.

Section 13.4 (a). Approval of contracts: review: appropriation.

(a) No contract shall be entered into by the City for the making of any public, improvement or for the purchase of any materials, tools, apparatus, or any other thing or things, the consideration or cost of which shall exceed $3,000 or after the year 2001, a greater amount established by resolution of City Council from time to time which shall not exceed the increase in the Consumer Price Index as reported by the U.S. Department of Labor for the Detroit area, until same shall have been approved by a majority of the Council election. All contracts prior to submission to the Council shall be reviewed by the Mayor. No contract for public improvements shall be entered into unless accompanied by a performance and material bond in the amount of the contract.

Be It Further Resolved: That the above proposed Charter language be submitted to the Attorney General and the Governor of the State of Michigan for their approval pursuant to MCLA 117.22.

Be It Further Resolved: That the following language for the proposed City Charter questions be adopted and submitted to the Office of the State Attorney General and the Governor for approval for placement on the 12th day of June, 2000 special election.

Romulus collecting signatures

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 230 Romulus residents have already signed petitions asking the state legislature for a stronger home rule stance in Michigan. The petition drive – pressed heavily here by City Council members Debbie Romak and William Crova – is seeking to aid Romulus, a city that has been heavily impacted by charter school and deepwell issues. Mayor William Oakley and others are complaining that the state is becoming too strong of a political “big brother” and that such reaching out by Lansing leaders has to stop. Since signing such petitions cannot occur inside City Hall, citizens need to meet with city council members outside that structure to place their names on such petitions. The effort for the “home rule” referendum is a state-wide drive -- showing that many other communities across the state are facing similar problems with Michigan leaders. For more information call Oakley's office at 942-7571 or your local council member. Deadline for submitting the last petition is July 10, according to the mayor's office.
